Portfolio: Dutchlabel

Dutchlabel is a internet company in Amsterdam that specialises in concept, advertisement and marketing. In need of a new website, I was hired to design and build a demo for the new website. This project lasted for 5 months. The website was created as a one-page site where most information were placed. I worked closely with the art director in order to achieve the visual vision of the new website. For a demo, visit test.dutchlabel.nl.

Portfolio: HCI

Human Computer Interaction was a course I took in my second year at The Hague University for the Communication & Multimedia Design program. For this course, I experimented with computer vision, augmented & virtual reality, wearable technology and artificial creatures. During this course, I documented my results online and for this, I build a website. At the end of the course, I created with my group a virtual reality game with the use of the program Unity. Visit hci.vin-design.nl for more.

Skills

Wordpress

Programming with this software with already built-in templates. Started using it recently, but knowledge is growing every day.

HTML & CSS

Can set up a basic HTML document with a CSS document attached to it and also change existing codes.

Photography & Videography

Taking pictures and editing them in Photoshop if needed. From photography to videography, using a Nikon D3100 allows me to film and edit in Premiere Pro.

Flinto Software

With this software, I can create clickable demo's of application and/or webdesigns.

Languages

Fluent in Dutch, English and Papiamentu. Currently learning Spanish during free time.

Adobe Photoshop, Dreamweaver & Premiere Pro

Have knowledge and experience with the photoshop, dreamweaver and premiere pro program. Can transform elements of photography and create graphic design of application and websites with Photoshop, build a basic website with Dreamweaver and editing videos with Premiere Pro.

Unity

Using this program to create a virtual reality game. Have beginner's knowledge of the program and will want to increase the knowledge. Program was useful in creating a game for a course at school.

Other Works

Next to design, I also write and direct short films. In 2014, I have produced and directed a short film called "My Name Is Paulo". It is set to premiere in 2015. For more information, visit www.vin-films.nl

I am also now active in a theatre organisation called the ISN Theatre Club in Leiden. It is a student organisation within the Leiden University where students come together to produce theatre plays each semester. Not only have I acted on stage, but also filmed performance and took pictures. I have done the same for LEF Theatre Group which also based in Leiden

I have created a webseries called COEDS that is currently filming its second season. The first season is available online at vin-films.nl.
